AMERICAN SUMMITS NOW AVAILABLE IN 6 MAJOR U.S. MARKETS
Premium, Mountain Spring Water Brand Officially Launched In D.C. Two Years Ago

WASHINGTON—Dec. 12, 2013—American Summits, a premium, mountain spring bottled water, is now sold in six major U.S. markets following its successful premiere in Washington, D.C. two years ago.

American Summits is now available for purchase in Washington, D.C, Las Vegas, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. In addition, American Summits is available at various retailers in Montana, Utah, and Wyoming.

In 2011, D.C. served as the launching pad for the premium water, which flows from a high spring in Wyoming's Beartooth Mountain Range. American Summits has not only grown to become readily available in multiple restaurants, hotels, and spas in the D.C. area, but it is also quickly becoming a fast-growing favorite at farm-to-table restaurants and organic stores in the region.

“We chose to launch in D.C. because we were eager to be part of the city’s rapidly rising culinary scene,” said Philip Lajaunie, American Summits CEO. “In addition, we couldn’t think of a more perfect city to launch an all-American brand than the nation’s capital. We are grateful for the city’s support, and we look forward to our continued work together.”

American Summits has sponsored numerous high profile D.C. events, including the Citi OpenSM tennis tournament, one of the top 20 tennis tournaments in the world; Cherry Blossom Festival events; the Junior League of Washington’s Centennial Fete; and the Restaurant Association of Metropolitan Washington’s annual RAMMY Awards. The company has also created limited edition, commemorative labels for events like the Presidential Inauguration and Cherry Blossom Festival.

About American Summits

American Summits mountain spring water flows from a high spring in the Beartooth Mountain Range, where it is recharged naturally from rain and snow, and flows through the rock down to the bottling facilities, in the middle of National Forest. American Summits water is never subject to chemical treatment, preservatives, reverse osmosis or distillation. With its still and sparkling water, American Summits seeks to be the mineral water of choice at fine restaurants, hotels and spas across the country, and at celebrations large and small in American homes. Above all, it strives to offer a pure taste of the American wilderness itself. American Summits is currently available in greater Los Angeles, Chicago, Las Vegas, metropolitan D.C., Boston, San Francisco, Wyoming, Montana, and Utah and can be shipped anywhere in the U.S. Learn more at www.AmericanSummits.com.
